11 (65 %) students have filled out the semester evaluation, which is on the low end.

The 3. semester is characterized that many students are doing their semester outside Denmark or as an internship. All projects were done together with an external partner, which is great. One of the risks when doing an internship is that the external supervisor is not much available. This was the case in one project, but was very well compensated by the internal AAU supervisor.

The only red area was the question about equipment. I think this is one group who worked with a company, where they did measurements in the field. Their expectation was that they just can use all equipment necessary all the time and take it out of the laboratories. This was just not realistic. Equipment has to be shared between student groups and staff as well.

Having said that there is indeed a need for more equipment, which is easy to transport and can be used for measurements outside the lab.
